ALUMNI SPOTLIGHT

DRACY HARPER

During a time when I was looking for my career path I registered for services at OIC. The staff there assisted me in exploring different opportunities. They also provided services that helped me to successfully complete the Offset Printing Program. I appreciate Mr. Blue and the OIC staff who all showed an authentic interest in my success. Today I am raising three amazing preteen daughters who I hope to be able to introduce to the world of work through one of OIC's youth programs. I'm hoping that they too can explore different opportunities to help them decide on their future careers.

Travis Nodine-Duarte hails from Tucson, AZ but later relocated to the Phoenix area to embark on a journey towards earning his GED Diploma. Swiftly and effectively, he completed the GED Arizona OIC study program and achieved commendable results in his GED exam.

The Arizona OIC team takes great pride in Travis Nodine-Duarte's accomplishments and expresses gratitude for his utilization of our resources to fulfill his educational aspirations. We extend our best wishes to him as he forges ahead in his life journey.

The OIC of America has gotten together and is spearheading the drafting of the Sullivan Training Network Act legislation after their visit to Capitol Hill. Their aim is to empower marginalized groups, including those in the justice system and living in poverty, by equipping them with skills for high-demand, sustainable careers. Through this legislation, they propose the establishment of a competitive grant program administered by the US Department of Labor. This program will support organizations collaborating with employers to provide industry-recognized credentials across various sectors such as manufacturing, construction,

IT, and financial services. The Sullivan Act seeks to fund tuition-free career training programs while implementing a robust evaluation framework to monitor outcomes.

AZOIC personally met with Senator Kelly, and Senator Sinema's representative Sylvia Lee to consider co-sponsoring this bill, which promises to uplift countless Americans and commemorate the 60th anniversary of OIC of America's inception in honor of Rev. Leon Sullivan's legacy.
